

Mark Sorensen, DDS

Oral Surgeon

Dr. Mark Sorensen grew up in a small, rural town in south central Idaho. Growing up he played football, basketball, and baseball and graduated as Valedictorian from high school.

He completed his undergraduate education in Biology with a minor in Chemistry from BYU-Idaho. He then went on to complete dental school at the University of Iowa where he received his Doctorate of Dental Surgery (DDS). Upon graduation he was inducted into the Omicron Kappa Upsilon National Dental Honor Society. He then entered a four year maxillofacial surgery residency at the University of Rochester Medical Center in Rochester, New York.

Dr. Sorensen is a member of multiple professional organizations including the American Dental Association, the American Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons, the Arizona Dental Association, the American Society of Maxillofacial Surgeons and the American College of Maxillofacial Surgeons.

What is his practice philosophy? "I enjoy explaining the pros and cons for different treatment options so my patients can make good decisions. I find satisfaction in being partners with my patients as we find the treatment that works best for them."

When not practicing dentistry, Dr. Sorensen likes to spend his time with his family and friends. They enjoy camping and spending time in the outdoors. What you may not know about Dr. Sorensen is that he is saving up to purchase a dirt bike so he can start exploring the mountain trails.

We cannot wait for you to meet Dr. Mark Sorensen!
